COLOUR FEATURETTES

Sessions 11, 2, 5, 8

PROBABLY one of the hardest working North's committeemen is Moss Back. Moss, when not selling doubles, sometimes takes over the duties as one of North's massuers.

* * *

NORTH'S committee wish to thank the players and coaches of all teams for the support they have given the club during the 1970 season, especially with two benefit cabarets held.

* * *

IT was certainly a stroke of bad luck for Denis Nicholls to break his wrist in last week's game against Maitland. Denis, a fine clubman will be sorely missed in today's game.

* * *

WEST first grade fullback for today's important clash with Maitland is Ken "Papa" Smith. This talented player caught the eye recently at Kurri in the reserves. He was responsible for a solid display in this game and no doubt this helped sway the selectors when it was decided to rest usual fullback Geoff "Tag" Spruce.

* * *

AN interesting choice in first grade as hooker is Steve Lawson. This young player in his first year out of the junior ranks has impressed and it would seem that a promising future lies ahead of this young prospect. No doubt the experience he gains in today's game will stand him in good stead. "Good on you Steve, you show em".

* * *

CENTRAL wish to thank their many supporters who throughout the season have given generously to all appeals for the sale of raffle tickets, competitions etc.

ARTHURSON CO-MANAGER

Ken Arthurson, secretary of Manly-Warringah Club, beat two other officials for the position of co-manager of the World Cup team to visit and defend the series in England in October and November.

Arthurson, New South Wales vice-president Ken Charlton and Clancy Kingston, president of the Country Rugby League, nominated for the position.

Arthurson, who made a late decision to stand last Monday night received 26 votes of the 41 recorded.

The Queensland League has the right to appoint a co-manager and he and Arthurson will control the financial aspect and the welfare of the team while on tour.

HUTCHINSON BRIDGES GAP

Only one point separates Terry Pannowitz and Karl Hutchinson in the H. L. Wheeler trophy for the Player of the Year.

Hutchinson received one point for a good game against Maitland last Sunday, and moves to 16 points. Pannowitz missed out on an allocation and remains on 17 points (It was incorrectly stated that Pannowitz had won the Wheeler trophy in last week's programme).

With one more series to be played either player can win the trophy.

Colin Ball (North), Ron Munro (Waratah), Noel Moffatt (Kurri), Barry Lawrence (South) and Neil Hincks (Lakes) were the five players to be voted top awards in the 17th series of matches played last Sunday.

Leading point getters.—
