

Usually very placid, Neville Myers, Waratah's star full back was very concerned over the loss of one of his thongs at training last week. He still thinks Hughie Banks was the culprit.

Noel "Mick" Platts of North has again proved his worth to the "blues" with two grand games. His effort last week played a bit part in their success.

Ted Cavanagh has been relegated to West Reserves, to his rightful position as full back. Ted filled in very ably as Senior lock and it won't be long before this popular Club man forces his way back up.

North's big centre Joe Irwin showed what a grand centre he is last Monday — his defence stood out when his team was under sustained pressure.

Ross Banks of North playing his first senior game last week had a real good game by giving his team an extra share of the ball and his general play was of the highest.

FRENCHMEN DUE IN MAY

The Frenchmen are due to arrive in Australia in May and supporters of the Rugby League code will be looking forward to their displays of exhilarating and open football.

Experts have stated that the feature of the French side is that there has not been a better front row since 1951.

They state the whole team has been based around three front row forwards namely: Aldo Quaglio, who is the hooker, and Andre Casas and Marcel Bescos.

Although they did not play together against the Kangaroos they were greatly respected, individually, in the Australia v. France Test series.

Newcastle v. France Programme Remains at 6d.

The programme featuring the Newcastle v. France fixture will be on sale the day of the match and the price will be 6d. only.
